The following items are taken from the Bulletin of 50 years ago this week, showing the status of affairs at home and at the seat of war:

Funeral of Arthur F. Ryder.
July 25, 1864. The funeral of the late Arthur F. Ryder, son of Sunday was largely attended. Chief Engineer Andrews and one of his assistants were present, as were the Hook and Ladder Co., Niagara Falls, Engine Co. and Greenville No. 1. Officer Benson, of the police force, was chief marshal of the funeral. The Hook and Ladder Co. returns thanks to those fire companies who turned out to pay a last tribute to a departed brother.

Fell From Barn at Lebanon.
Ellis B. Avery, of Lebanon, fell from the roof of his barn, on Friday last, striking on his head. It is feared that he was fatally injured.

August 4, Day of Humiliation.
Governor W. A. Buckingham has issued a proclamation, earnestly requesting the people to observe Thursday, August 4th as a day of humiliation and prayer, in accordance with the recommendation of the President of the United States.

July 28, 1864.—W. F. Branch of this city, who has been employed as a telegraph office, in Springfield, has received the appointment of superintendent of the telegraph office at Newport, R. I.
Two of our Norwich insurance companies are losers by the great fire in Springfield on Sunday. The Thames company had $15,000 upon the store of Otis Childs, $2,500 upon Tilly Haynes' Music Block, and $3,000 upon Morris' Bros., photograph gallery. The Norwich Fire Insurance company had $2,500 upon the Music Hall Block, $1,500 upon Hutchings' drug store, $3,000 upon Morse's gallery.

Town Quotas Assigned.
The quotas of the towns of this district have now been assigned, and getting the names of such as are physically exempt erased from the list does not decrease them. No provision has been yet made under which such an effort will change the present allotment. The 18th regiment, re-enlisted veterans, arrived at Boston, on Monday, Saturday, in the steamer Cambria en route for home, to enjoy their 30 days' furlough.

TWO MORE BURGLARIES IN NEW LONDON

James C. Copp, Summering at Gales Ferry, Had House Entered, as Did Jeremiah D. Cronin.

James C. Copp, who is spending the summer at Gales Ferry, visited his residence at 11 Post Hill place, New London, Friday afternoon to see if during the epidemic of burglaries there he had been robbed and found that the house had been ransacked. Mr. Copp reported the matter to the police. Initiated silver was evaded at the Copp residence just as it was at the residence of a previously reported burglar. Several pieces of silver plate, which had great value, were stolen. The burglar made his way into the house by forcing a window. After he left he pulled down the shades and the window, so that until an inspection had been made of the house it would not be noticed that a burglary had been committed.

It was discovered Friday also that the home of Jeremiah D. Cronin at 22 Nathan street had been burglarized. The residence, like that of George Fred Brown at 3 Post Hill place, is unoccupied during the summer. Mr. Cronin's house was broken into and the shades were pulled down. The burglar was seen by a neighbor who called to the door and saw the burglar. The burglar was seen by a neighbor who called to the door and saw the burglar.

The front veranda windows were forced by the burglars in the manner similar to those of the Brown residence. One of the windows was broken and glass lay on the veranda, which people who passed the Cronin house did not see Thursday. This is the only reason to believe that the residence was robbed on a different night and that the burglars having no fear of the New London police, have started on a tour of home vacancies by families at the shore for the season.

Mr. Cronin's exact loss was not known Friday. A clothes closet was broken into and several expensive overcoats were stolen. Most of the valuables of the household, which had been removed to Naugatuck, were for use, are in safe deposit vaults.

At the home of Mr. Brown everything has been left at the request of the police, as it was left by the burglars. At the Cronin residence people were heard walking on the concrete at 10 o'clock Thursday night. There were two in a boat which seemed to be passing through the yard. A neighbor's servant girl heard them, but as they made no attempt at stealth she paid no further attention.

Friday the police said no progress had been made toward the apprehension of either burglar. To a single patrolman is assigned the task of policing the entire Post Hill section from Williams street and the police say they do not expect such burglaries to be prevented until New London increases the size of its force.

FUNERAL.

Jane Elizabeth Street.
At 2:15 o'clock Friday afternoon the funeral of Jane Elizabeth, daughter of the late William and Elizabeth Street was held from her home in Poquetanuck with a large attendance of relatives and friends. Charles Billings Chapman, a lay reader in Trinity Episcopal church, conducted the service and the bearers were William R. and Edwin Street, Albert Patterson and Lawrence Bogie. Burial took place in the family plot in Poquetanuck cemetery, where Mr. Chapman read the committal service. There were a number of handsome floral offerings.

Miss Street died on Wednesday, having been an invalid the greater part of her life. She was 35 years of age and was born in Poquetanuck, where she had always lived. Miss Street leaves her mother and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Walters of Augusta, Me., Mrs. Fred Lauray of Detroit, Mrs. Alice Kelley of Poquetanuck and two brothers, William R. and Edwin H. Street.

Undertakers Church & Allen had charge of the funeral arrangements.

July 28, 1864.—Among the graduates at the Episcopal Academy in Cheshire this year is Junius American Brand of this city. He delivers an oration at the commencement on Friday, subject "Revolutions."

Letter From Charles J. Richards
The following private letter was received from a member of the 18th.

Dear Brother—
I was taken prisoner at Piedmont, and am at present in Staunton. I am well and hearty, and in good spirits. I treated first rate—much better than last year.
CHARLES J. RICHARDS.
Co. A, 18th Regiment, C. V.

Rumor of Col. Ely's Death.
Wednesday's New York Herald published a mass of rumors, one that Col. W. G. Ely of this city of the 18th Connecticut, now commanding a 3rd grade was killed in Crook's late fight near Winchester.

Satisfactory News From Sherman.
The news from General Sherman is satisfactory. Prisoners report that General Hood was killed in the battle of the 22nd, in which serious damage was inflicted on the rebels. Rousseau's raid was very successful. With very slight loss he captured and paroled 2000 rebels, destroyed 31 miles of railroad, and 13 depots, and captured stores, in proportion.

Child Fell on Carving Knife.
July 28, 1864.—A child, two and one-half years old, accidentally killed herself on Wednesday at Bean Hill. The child was sitting at the supper table, snatched a carving knife, reaching over her shoulder, and cutting the jugular vein, causing death in a very short time.

At a meeting of Uncas lodge, No. 11, I. O. O. F., held on the 27th, the following officers were elected for the current term: H. Hobart Roach, N. G.; Charles A. Connor, V. G.; William F. Brewer, Secretary; Denison P. Cook, Treasurer.

Graduated at Yale.
July 30, 1864.—Among the graduating class at Yale who took part in the exercises at New Haven, Thursday, were the following from this vicinity: William Henry Palmer, Stonington; Philosophical Gratton, "Action and Suffrage"; Joseph Latham, Norwich Town; Dissertation, "Administrative Qualifications"; Daniel Lathrop Colt, Norwich Town; "Comes."

Willimantic has voted $200 bounty to those who enlist to credit on the quota of that town.

Two substitutes were accepted at the Provost Marshal's office—one for Capt. Waller, late of the 2nd C. V. Waller street is being repaired.

WHAT THE ARMY WORM LOOKS LIKE

It is the Dark Gray Caterpillar with Yellowish Stripes, or a Moth That Flies by Night.

The army worm is the caterpillar of a night-flying moth (Leucania Unipuncta-Haaworth). In length it is from an inch to an inch and three-quarters in length, dark gray with yellowish stripes above and a broader stripe a little darker below on each side, head brown, yellowish, with a network of fine dark brown lines, and a black line on the front like the letter "Y" reversed.

It is clothed by plowing two furrows, three feet apart in front of them, laying dry straw in the furrows and sowing the seed in the space between the furrows to it. This should be carefully done where they are near crops which may catch fire.

An iron roller such as is used on lawns may be used to crush them. Let the crows and blackbirds have free access to them.

When the crop has been gathered and the ground every sort should be turned into the field with the plow and they will destroy all that have escaped.

OBITUARY.

Henry W. Champlin.
Following an illness of some duration Henry W. Champlin died at his home, 229 West Main street, Friday morning, his death being due to Bright's disease. Mr. Champlin was born in Montville and was 74 years of age. The greater part of his life had been passed as a farmer, and for the past six years he had made his home in this city. In Montville in 1866 he was united in marriage with Isabel McAlpin, who survives him. Mr. Champlin was a member of the Montville Congregational church. Besides his wife he leaves a son, Robert Elmer Champlin of this city, a granddaughter, and several nieces and nephews.

Had Liquor to Sell to Soldiers.
The Ninth New York regiment, which is in camp at Fort H. G. Wright was saved the possibility of becoming deserters by the arrest in New London for theft of John Healey and Frederick Williams. Suit cases and valises carried by Healey and Williams were full of bottles of whiskey of inferior quality. They confessed to Judge Colt in police court Friday that they were on their way to Fort Wright to "peddle" the bottles to the soldiers and had expected to realize a big sum on the liquor, the cheapest to be bought in New York which would sell if it got to the soldiers at fancy prices. Healey said he is a member of the N. Y. N. G. Both men were convicted of theft, fined $5 each and each sent to jail for 10 days in addition.

They stole a suit of clothes valued at $10 and athletic models from Private John Kelly of the One Hundred Thirty-second U. S. coast artillery company after they had made Kelly's acquaintance as passengers on the steamer City of Lowell, coming to New London.

European Trip Abandoned.
Judge Gardner Green of the superior court has been compelled to abandon a part of his European trip on account of the war, according to information received by Attorney Charles L. Stewart. Judge Green's itinerary would have taken him through the war zone. According to the message received, Judge Green, accompanied by Mrs. Greene, had arrived in Berlin on his tour and was about to proceed to Vienna, Venice and London. The trip had been planned to give up this portion of the tour. He will go to London. The remainder of the itinerary included visits to Christiania, Norway, Stockholm and Copenhagen.

Submarines Are Satisfactory.
Vice President G. C. Daykin of the New London Ship and Engine Co., who returned Thursday from a trip to Seattle, said Friday that there was absolutely no truth in the published report that the Chilean government had rejected the two submarines which had just been completed for it by the United States.

The South American government has not rejected them.
